

Proverbs 3:5–6 (KJV)

Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.

This book asks: do you trust in the LORD with all your heart — or do you lean unto your own understanding by interpreting what the LORD really meant to say?

Christian Preaching That Devalues Scripture

Christian Preaching

that devalues Scripture

A critique of how Bible-school hermeneutics displace the plain Word of God

PAUL H BLAKEMORE

ABOUT THIS BOOK

Why does every Bible school produce sincere, God-believing teachers who still disagree with one another about what Scripture means?

In Christian Preaching That Devalues Scripture, Paul H Blakemore argues that the hermeneutical systems taught in conservative Bible schools lead pastors to “lean unto their own understanding” — explaining what they believe God really meant to say — rather than trusting the plain Word of God.

Drawing on Ephesians 3:3–9 and the wisdom of Proverbs and Ecclesiastes, the book asks why sectarian conflict is the constant fruit of Bible-school doctrine — and what it would mean to take Proverbs 3:5 at its word.
